

Trayvon Martin and the church of hypocrisy

Written by bad_brain

Thursday, 25 July 2013 20:07 - Last Updated Thursday, 25 July 2013 21:25

Poor Trayvon. He was only 7 years old when he got shot. All he wanted was to sell cookies for his boy scout group. But then....evil George Zimmerman came. Right from the KKK meeting, still wearing his grand wizard robe and waving a swastika flag. When he saw little 3 year old Trayvon (yes, he got younger in the meantime) Zimmerman pulled his sawed off double barrel shotgun with the "die nigger die!" engravings and shot Trayvon in the face. 28367 times. We all have reason to be very upset. Really.

But enough of that, let's leave the realms of retarded media indoctrinated lemmings with no own opinion and have a closer look at the church of hypocrisy and their vocational indignant members.

Trayvon Martin and the church of hypocrisy

Written by bad_brain

Thursday, 25 July 2013 20:07 - Last Updated Thursday, 25 July 2013 21:25

It's often hard to believe how stupid people are, and especially how righteous they are about their own stupidity, I will name just 2 examples, more would be unbearable for sane minds and could cause permanent brain damage.

Thanks a lot to the user named "fail2launch" (brilliant he/she already has the "fail" in the nick, oh the irony) for this one:

"the head wounds Zimmerman had were not life-threatening, so he had no reason to shoot!"

Ok, of course fail2think is right. Any normal person, when attacked, asks for breaks during getting beaten on the head so he can check if the wounds are already life-threatening. If in doubt ("is that the brain already I can see through the hole, or is it still just the bone?") it is recommended to take a pic with the cellphone and mail it to the next hospital so they can do a quick check....until the doc replies victim and attacker can shoot some dices at the street corner or share witty anecdotes to pass the time.

I am not that normal though, and I label any blow to the head, with a weapon or not, as a potential life threatening activity and would express my disapproval with any measure necessary to stop the attack. And if the attacker dies during the procedure...well: Live by the sword, die by the sword. Simple. On a personal note: Of course I was banned from the IRC channel where this abstruse statement appeared within 5 minutes. Thank god.

Ok, 2nd one. This one is hardcore. It is a mix of gloomy "nothing better to do with my life than posting complete bollocks on FB" depression, paired with the lack of an own opinion or brain, and, of course, a full blown OOD infection (suck-o chef scientist bad_brain recommends suicide as only treatment). Are you ready? Ok, have a look:

Trayvon Martin and the church of hypocrisy

Written by bad_brain

Thursday, 25 July 2013 20:07 - Last Updated Thursday, 25 July 2013 21:25

Lisa [redacted]

changed her profile picture.

July 14

Like · Share

3 people like this.

Lisa [redacted]

It's supposed to be for solidarity with the Martin family -justice for Trayvon

July 14 at 3:20pm via mobile · Like

Trayvon Martin and the church of hypocrisy

Written by bad_brain

Thursday, 25 July 2013 20:07 - Last Updated Thursday, 25 July 2013 21:25

~~Trayvon Martin, a 17-year-old African American, was shot and killed by George Zimmerman, a 29-year-old white man, on February 26, 2012, in a suburban neighborhood in Sanford, Florida. The shooting occurred in the middle of the night, and the victim was walking home from a store. The incident sparked a nationwide debate about race, gun control, and the role of the police. The case also highlighted the issue of self-defense and the right to bear arms. The shooting was captured on video by a neighbor, which led to Zimmerman's arrest. The case was widely covered by the media, and it became a national sensation. The shooting of Trayvon Martin was a tragic event that has left a lasting impact on the American psyche. It has led to a re-examination of the justice system and the role of the police. The case has also led to a renewed focus on gun control and the right to bear arms. The shooting of Trayvon Martin was a reminder that we all have the potential for violence, and we must take steps to prevent such tragedies from occurring again.~~